CALLS UPON ALL GAELS TO WORK FOR INDEPENDENCE

PRES. COSGRAVE, OF THE FREE
STATE, SAYS ALL IS WELL
IN IRELAND

Shall southern Ireland become a republic or remain a free state within the British Empire?

On the occasion of St. Patrick's Day, the United Press herewith presents the attitudes of two leading Irishmen on the question.

President William T. Cosgrave of the Irish Free State, in a message to the American people, says things are well with Ireland and that they will become better as the Free State continues.

Eamon De Valera, leader of the Sinn Fein when Ireland was a battle field, says new hope has dawned and calls upon all true Gaels to work for independence.

By WILLIAM T. COSGRAVE
President of the Irish Free State
(Written for the United Press)

Dublin, March 17. — We send greetings to the many friends of Ireland in the American continent on this great national festival of our patron saint.

The Irish Free State on St. Patrick's Day, 1927, records a year of harder work, greater achievement and improved progress.

People of Irish descent in America will be gratified to learn that while we are yet far from achievement of all that we aspire to, social and economic improvements are marked and valuable work has been done, which must result in steadily increasing prosperity.

No nation can be isolated from the economic circumstances of its neighbors, and improving conditions in neighboring countries are having beneficial reactions here.

The events of recent years have contributed toward the development of self-reliance and have evolved a new spirit of pride and confidence, a spirit which no longer runs in exclusively political channels, but finds outlets for the national energy in economic and cultural development.

The Irishman abroad who has not had an opportunity of visiting us can but inadequately realize that the people are applying themselves to every day practical problems with all the vigor and shrewdness which has been such a remarkable characteristic of our race in other lands.

By EAMON DE VALERA
First President of the 'Irish Republic'
(Written for the United Press)

New York, March 17.—To every one of the Irish race—Beatha agus slainte!

This St. Patrick's Day dawns with a new hope for all of us. The effort that is being made at home to heal the wounds of the recent past, to rally the people once more and to strengthen their will to resume the march toward independence has met within the last few months with a success which a short time ago would have been thought impossible. Heads are being raised that were bowed in sadness and despair, and a new confidence is being born that the ideals which we formerly cherished still are realizable.

Seven years ago we found ourselves in the vanguard of freedom, inspiring and leading from their dungeons of political servitude the exploited subject nations of the world. We saw in the future that stretched before us the opportunity of blazing the way to a new social order in which the resources and potentialities of the community would be used to rescue the individual from the slavery of his material wants and set him free for the pursuit of the higher objects of his existence.

The spiritual leadership which our nation then held it is our duty to recover. To win it back, to have it securely established when in a few years we shall be celebrating the fifteen hundredth anniversary of the coming of Patrick is an aim worthy of the best efforts of all. To its achievement, every true Gael will pledge himself on this St. Patrick's Day.

The Gaelic greeting used by Eamon De Valera in his St. Patrick's Day statement means "Greetings and health."

CLAIM COOLIDGE BROKE FAITH WITH PEOPLE

BECAUSE OF VETO OF McNARY-
HAUGEN FARM RELIEF
BILL

RESOLUTION DRAWN UP BY MIN-NESOTA COUNCIL OF AGRI-CULTURE

St. Paul, March 17.—(UP)—President Coolidge has broken faith with the American people by the veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, according to a resolution drawn up late Wednesday at a meeting of the Minnesota Council of Agriculture.

"By his veto of the McNary-Haugen bill, President Coolidge has denied to the American farmer, as a class, equal rights with eastern industry under our protective system," the resolution declared. "He has agreed that American agriculture must continue to produce and sell at a loss, in order that the other protected groups may feed on its substance and increase their profits."

"He has therefore," the resolution continued, "broken faith with the American people and with his own party and has definitely aligned himself with the extreme eastern industrialists."

"We propose to carry on this fight," the resolution concluded, "until the American farmer has regained the position he should rightfully enjoy—a position of complete equality with industry, banking and with labor."

Thomas Cashman, Owatonna, president of the council, declared that the purpose of the meeting was to renew with greater energy the fight for enactment of farm relief legislation.

"Our enemies can have one more chance," Cashman said. "If they continue to stand between us and a square deal, I propose that we starve them out of their entrenched position, and if we are half as good as our ancestors we can make good that statement in one short year."

ST. LOUIS WOMAN CELEBRATES HER 110TH BIRTHDAY

St. Louis, Mo., March 17.—(UP)—Over the century mark and 10 years beyond—a span of 110 years—will be the occasion for a celebration in the home of Mrs. Miriam Sparks Banister, St. Louis' oldest resident, here Saturday.

But ten candles will grace the huge birthday cake. The other 100 were dispensed with after the 100th birthday had been reached. Simplicity on food and ability to forget the trials and tribulations of life are given by the little English woman as the reasons for her longevity of life.

As a memory test, Mrs. Banister today recalled the date and many of the details of the death and funeral of the Duke of Kent. She witnessed the funeral as a girl in Devonshire, England.

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 17.—(UP)—Within a year of her 100 year goal, Mrs. Aurilia Walkup today celebrated her 99th birthday planning her spring garden.

"Grandma" Walkup told the score or more of friends who gathered at her home on hers and St. Patrick's birthday, that her one wish in life is to reach the age of 100 when she will be content to die.

Each spring finds the pioneer woman busily engaged in the planting of a large garden. Mrs. Walkup is very active for all of her 99 years and devotes a large part of her time out-of-doors.

HEAVY LOSS IN BATTLE AT SAN JERONIMO

LIBERALS AND CONSERVATIVES
CLASH, LATTER CLAIMING A VICTORY

CONSERVATIVES FINALLY RE-TIRE BECAUSE OF LACK OF AMMUNITION

Managua, March 17.—(UP)—Heavy loss of life in a battle between liberals and conservatives was reported today to have occurred at San Jeronimo on Monday. The conservative forces finally retired because of lack of ammunition, but nevertheless claimed a victory, reporting the capture of two machine guns and 72 rifles.

Liberal troops were routed at Tierazul yesterday, the government announced, after sanguinary fighting. The liberal losses in the two battles were estimated by the conservatives at 200 killed and more than 100 wounded. Conservative losses were reported to have been 30 killed and 35 wounded.

Airplanes and bombs played a major part in the battles, the government announced, causing severe losses to the liberals.

The liberals' next stand probably will be at Muy Muy and Matiguas, where Conservative General Viquez is expected to attack.

Two American aviators, Lee Mason and Brooks, constitute the conservative air force, and it was presumed that they piloted the planes referred to in the foregoing dispatch. The United States government is reported to have informed the men that their participation in the Nicaraguan revolution is distasteful to the United States. A United States law forbids any citizen participating in a foreign war.

Edward Barnett, 50-year-old negro died in a hospital during the night, after he was struck by a Great Western switch engine at 1 p. m. Both legs were crushed.

SAVES BANK BY SENDING CASH BY AIRPLANE

St. Louis, Mo., March 17.—(UP)—Rushing $200,000 to Zeigler, Ill., in an airplane, the First National Bank of St. Louis blocked the imminent closing of a correspondent bank yesterday.

The run was started on the basis of false rumors, bank officials here said. The institution was reported in good condition today. An official of the bank made the trip to Zeigler, a distance of 120 miles, in two hours and ten minutes. The run had ceased at nightfall.

KILLED 2 CHILDREN SO THEY WOULD NOT FACE POVERTY

WALTER SCHOLL'S UNUSUAL PLEA IN ALLEGED MURDER CASE

FOSTER MOTHER BECOMES RE-
CONCILED TO HUSBAND
UNDER ARREST

Gary, Ind., March 17.—(UP)—Walter Scholl waits in the county jail today for the machinery of the law to take his life so that he may join his two children—the ones he killed "that they would not have to face poverty."

Scholl was arrested in Chicago yesterday after the bodies of his babies, Vivian, 8, and Donald, 6, were found in a Gary cottage, they had been killed with ether.

"They had no chance. I killed them," the former accountant told authorities today.

Scholl said he intended to take his own life because he could not live with his wife—the foster mother of his children—from whom he had been separated for three months. Realizing the children would not have a chance without him, he killed them according to a confession.

"Then I lost my nerve," the dual murder however has brought a reconciliation with his wife.

"I intended to commit suicide and didn't want to leave the babies to face the world alone," Scholl related. "Vivian agreed to die with me. Donald was too young to understand."

He explained that he failed to kill himself partly through loss of nerve and partly because he wanted to see his wife before he died. After his capture by Chicago detectives he met her in the office of Chief of Detectives William Shoemaker in Chicago.

In telling details of the double slaying Scholl said that because saturated towels of ether and chloroform failed to blot out the children's lives he strangled them.

"Vivian told me just before, 'daddy, I know you can't live without mama, so if you want to die I'll die with you,'" he said.

The dead boy was innocently instrumental in breaking up their home, Mrs. Scholl said.

"You don't lace my shoes like my other mama," he said to me once."

Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Scholl of Pittsburgh, Pa., parents of the prisoner came to Gary late yesterday. The father is a retired Seventh Day Adventist preacher.

When he saw his miserable son the father asked, "why didn't you kill yourself?"

"I had the gun to my head but couldn't pull the trigger," the son pleaded. "Anyway, I think death in the electric chair is more appropriate."

STAY SOBER 25 YEARS OR PAY FINE OF $6.60

Clarksburg, W. Va., March 17.—(UP)—E. W. Moats must remain sober for 25 years or pay a fine of $6.60. The fine would be paid to the city of Clarksburg.

30 AUTHORS SPONSOR THE NEW MEASURE

ASK EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS TO CHANGE METHODS OF TEACHING

REP. LORD GAVE NOTICE OF DE-
BATE, WHICH LAID MEASURE
OVER A DAY

St. Paul, March 17.—(UP)—The hardy anti-evolution question made another appearance in the house of representatives here today as legislators took stock of the 77 bills introduced before the lower body late Wednesday, the last regular day for the offering of bills.

Thirty authors presented a new anti-evolution resolution protesting against the teaching of evolution as a fact and asking that educational institutions discontinue the practice.

Rep. R. L. Lord, Wells, gave notice of debate when the resolution was presented, which automatically laid the measure over for one day. Action on the resolution was expected at today's session.

Among the nearly four score bills the more important measures were those of Rep. Henry Spindler, Buffalo, and Rep. E. J. Cillgren, Little Fork, concerning initiative and referendum and gasoline taxes.

Rep. Spindler's measure would permit the holding of referendum election on all questions vital to the interests of citizens of the state.

Increased taxation from two to three cents per gallon on gasoline was asked in the measure offered by Rep. Cillgren.

BUSINESS MAN LEAPS TO HIS DEATH

A. C. FLOAN, ST. PAUL CLOTHIER,
JUMPS FROM HIGH
BRIDGE

SUFFERED A NERVOUS AILMENT
FOLLOWING AUTOMOBILE
ACCIDENT

St. Paul, Minn., March 17.—(UP)—A. C. Floan, 63, prominent Norwegian clothier of St. Paul ended a siege of illness here late Wednesday when he leaped to his death from the high bridge.

Floan who suffered with a nervous ailment following an automobile accident had twice been decorated by King Haakon VII of Norway for his services in the interests of Norwegians in America.

The pioneer clothier was made a knight of the order of Vasa in 1923 following a similar decorative honor in 1915.

Two men saw Floan leap to his death and they recovered the body before it sank in the Mississippi river.

Members of the dead man's family said fear of being bedridden from injuries received in an automobile crash in 1926 brought on a highly nervous condition which preyed on his mind.

The widow, a son here and a daughter, Mrs. Croll Hunter, Fargo, N. D., survive Floan.

London, March 17.—(UP)—Leading British authors, actors and artists will cooperate with motion picture producers in an attempt to build a $5,000,000 "British Hollywood" on the site of the Wembley exposition.

John Galsworthy, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Arnold Bennett are among the authors who agreed to assist in the new campaign to end the American film domination of British motion picture theatres. Sir Gerald Du Maurier, Sybil Thorne, Oscar Asche and other actors and stage artists as Frank Brangwyn and Isadore Delara also promised to aid the project.

MAKES WILL, DESPONDENT WOMAN THEN KILLS SELF

Minneapolis, March 17.—(UP)—Despondent over ill health, Mrs. Nellie Hoverson, 56, early today made her will and then killed herself.

She was found in her gas filled kitchen today by her son, Lawrence. Gas jets of the kitchen range were wide open.

LEGAL EFFORTS TO EXECUTE SIX PRISONERS

LATTER CONVICTED OF KILLING
DEPUTY WARDEN KLEIN
AT JOLIET

3 OF HALF DOZEN ESCAPED, EN-GAGED IN GUN BATTLE, KILL-ING CHICAGO OFFICER

Joliet, Ill., March 17.—(UP)—Legal efforts to bring about speedy execution of six men—convicted of killing Deputy Warden Peter Klein of the state penitentiary—were to be started today by State's Attorney Rehn.

Rehn decided on this in view of the fact that three of the men, Bernardo Roa, Robert Torrez and Gregorio Rizzo, escaped from the Will county jail Saturday, fled into Chicago and engaged in a gun battle with police which resulted in one officer being killed. One of the Mexicans, Roa, is still free and attempts are being made in three states to bring about his capture.

The six men, Roa, Torrez, Rizzo, Charles Duschowski, Charles Shadr and Walter Stalesky, were convicted early last fall for the murder of Klein. The murder occurred when the six fled from the prison last summer.

Date for their execution has been set three times and continued, the last time through a writ of superseas to the supreme court.

EACH SUES FOR HALF MILLION

New York, March 17.—(UP)—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, Henry Carpenter and William Stevens have begun actions in supreme court here against the Public Press corporation, publishers of the New York Daily Mirror.

Each plaintiff seeks $500,000. The suit grows out of published matter in the Mirror concerning the murder in 1922 of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills in New Brunswick, N. J. Mrs. Hall and her brothers Henry and William Stevens were acquitted by a jury in Somerville. Henry Carpenter was not brought to trial and the indictments against him were nolle prossed.

"Senator Schall and I went to the front for her," Jacobs said. Names of persons declared to have contributed to Schall's campaign were brought out.

"T. E. Kelly, a banker of Minneapolis, helped some and a lot of our good friends in the country," said Jacobs. "Andy Rahn helped some."

"How much?" asked Kinkadee. "Oh, Lordy, I can't say how much. He gave some during the primary and one time about $2,000."

Rahn formerly was republican state committeeman.

The most pertinent testimony related to Mr. Peoria, an Italian, who was charged with keeping and selling liquor.

Jacobs said that Schall agreed to use his influence to have the charge modified to one of simple possession. In return for a campaign contribution.

As a result, Jacobs indicated, Capt. C. A. Townsend, then prohibition director, was urged by Schall to accept a plea to a lesser charge, because "Peoria was a leader among his countrymen and controlled a lot of votes."

Jacobs testified he was present at the meeting.

Opposing attorneys were in the midst of a wrangle when a recess was taken to 7:30 p. m. tonight.

The hearing was marked by several clashes, the major one being a protest by Tom Davis, of Minneapolis, and other attorneys for Schall that the proceedings were illegal.

The committee overruled the objections.

STABBED VICE CONSUL RECOVERING

Rio De Janeiro, March 17.—(UP)—Herndon W. Gofroth, American vice consul at Sao Paulo, who was stabbed several days ago during an argument over a passport, was out of danger today, his physician said.

A. N. JACOBS TESTIFIES ON WEDNESDAY

ATTEMPT TO INTIMI-

TESTIFIES FURTHER OF ALLEG-
ED DONATIONS MADE TO
CAMPAIGN FUND

By HECTOR PERRIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Paul, March 17.—The Minnesota senate committee's investigation of the election of U. S. Senator Thos. D. Schall in 1924 was enlivened today by a charge that an attempt had been made to intimidate its most important witness.

A. N. Jacobs, of Minneapolis, former publisher of The Harpoon, told the United Press that in testifying at the hearing Wednesday night, he defied a threat to do him bodily harm, delivered by telephone just before he left his home in Minneapolis to appear before the committee in St. Paul.

Whether those responsible were capable of carrying out the threat, Jacobs said he did not know, but he revealed that he is under police protection.

"The threat was the only thing that worried me while I was testifying," Jacobs said.

Mike Kinkadee, of St. Paul, attorney for Sen. Victor E. Lawson, of Willmar, author of the resolution calling for the inquiry, began the questioning of Jacobs with an attempt to establish that there were close relations between Jacobs and Schall. Jacobs previously had declared he was Schall's campaign manager.

No testimony to that effect was heard Wednesday night, but Jacobs declared that after the 1923 primary campaign, "I can devotedly say I followed him (Schall) wherever he went."

Jacobs said The Harpoon was always at Schall's command.

O. Curtis, of Minneapolis, he testified, was at the head of the Schall volunteer committee, but Jacobs said he "ran" it under Schall's orders.

A check for $150 donated by Miss Florence Josephick of St. Paul was mentioned. Jacobs said she gave him the check for "the cause." She was managing the Florence laboratories and had been denied an alcohol permit.

"Senator Schall and I went to the front for her," Jacobs said.

Names of persons declared to have contributed to Schall's campaign were brought out.

"T. E. Kelly, a banker of Minneapolis, helped some and a lot of our good friends in the country," said Jacobs. "Andy Rahn helped some."

Scholl was arrested in Chicago yesterday after the bodies of his babies, Vivian, 8, and Donald, 6, were found in a Gary cottage, they had been killed with ether.

"They had no chance. I killed them," the former accountant told authorities today.

Scholl said he intended to take his own life because he could not live with his wife—the foster mother of his children—from whom he had been separated for three months. Realizing the children would not have a chance without him, he killed them according to a confession.

"Then I lost my nerve," Scholl said. "I intended to commit suicide and didn't want to leave the babies to face the world alone," Scholl related. "Vivian agreed to die with me. Donald was too young to understand."

He explained that he failed to kill himself partly through loss of nerve and partly because he wanted to see his wife before he died. After his capture by Chicago detectives he met her in the office of Chief of Detectives William Shoemaker in Chicago.

In telling details of the double slaying Scholl said that because saturated towels of ether and chloroform failed to blot out the children's lives he strangled them.

"Vivian told me just before, 'daddy, I know you can't live without mama, so if you want to die I'll die with you,'" he said.

The dead boy was innocently instrumental in breaking up their home, Mrs. Scholl said.

"You don't lace my shoes like my other mama" he said to me once."

Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Scholl of Pittsburgh, Pa., parents of the prisoner came to Gary late yesterday. The father is a retired Seventh Day Adventist preacher.

When he saw his miserable son the father asked, "why didn't you kill yourself?"

"I had the gun to my head but couldn't pull the trigger," the son pleaded. "Anyway, I think death in the electric chair is more appropriate."

REP. LORD GAVE NOTICE OF DE-
BATE, WHICH LAID MEASURE
OVER A DAY

St. Paul, March 17.—(UP)—The hardy anti-evolution question made another appearance in the house of representatives here today as legislators took stock of the 77 bills introduced before the lower body late Wednesday, the last regular day for the offering of bills.

Thirty authors presented a new anti-evolution resolution protesting against the teaching of evolution as a fact and asking that educational institutions discontinue the practice.

Rep. R. L. Lord, Wells, gave notice of debate when the resolution was presented, which automatically laid the measure over for one day. Action on the resolution was expected at today's session.

Among the nearly four score bills the more important measures were those of Rep. Henry Spindler, Buffalo, and Rep. E. J. Cilgren, Little Rock, concerning initiative and referendum and gasoline taxes.

Rep. Spindler's measure would permit the holding of referendum election on all questions vital to the interests of citizens of the state.

Increased taxation from two to three cents per gallon on gasoline was asked in the measure offered by Rep. Cilgren.

BUSINESS MAN LEAPS TO HIS DEATH

A. C. FLOAN, ST. PAUL CLOTHIER,
JUMPS FROM HIGH
BRIDGE

FOLLOWING AUTOMOBILE
ACCIDENT

St. Paul, Minn., March 17.—(UP)—A. C. Floan, 63, prominent Norwegian clothier of St. Paul ended a siege of illness here late Wednesday when he leaped to his death from the high bridge.

Floan who suffered with a nervous ailment following an automobile accident had twice been decorated by King Haakon VII of Norway for his services in the interests of Norwegians in America.

The pioneer clothier was made a knight of the order of Vasa in 1923 following a similar decorative honor in 1915.

Two men saw Floan leap to his death and they recovered the body before it sank in the Mississippi river.

Members of the dead man's family said fear of being bedridden from injuries received in an automobile crash in 1926 brought on a highly nervous condition which preyed on his mind.

The widow, a son here and a daughter, Mrs. Croll Hunter, Fargo, N. D., survive Floan.

A. N. JACOBS TESTIFIES ON WEDNESDAY

SAID SOME ONE HAD MADE AN ATTEMPT TO INTIMI-

TESTIFIES FURTHER OF ALLEG-
ED DONATIONS MADE TO
CAMPAIGN FUND

By HECTOR PERRIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Paul, March 17.—The Minnesota senate committee's investigation of the election of U. S. Senator Thos. D. Schall in 1924 was enlivened today by a charge that an attempt had been made to intimidate its most important witness.

A. N. Jacobs, of Minneapolis, former publisher of The Harpoon, told the United Press that in testifying at the hearing Wednesday night, he defied a threat to do him bodily harm, delivered by telephone just before he left his home in Minneapolis to appear before the committee in St. Paul.

Whether those responsible were capable of carrying out the threat, Jacobs said he did not know, but he revealed that he is under police protection.

"The threat was the only thing that worried me while I was testifying," Jacobs said.

Mike Kinkead, of St. Paul, attorney for Sen. Victor E. Lawson, of Willmar, author of the resolution calling for the inquiry, began the questioning of Jacobs with an attempt to establish that there were close relations between Jacobs and Schall. Jacobs previously had declared he was Schall's campaign manager.

No testimony to that effect was heard Wednesday night, but Jacobs declared that after the 1923 primary campaign, "I can devotedly say I followed him (Schall) wherever he went."

Jacobs said The Harpoon was always at Schall's command.

O. Curtis, of Minneapolis, he testified, was at the head of the Schall volunteer committee, but Jacobs said he "ran" it under Schall's orders.

A check for $150 donated by Miss Florence Josewick of St. Paul was mentioned. Jacobs said she gave him the check for "the cause." She was managing the Florence laboratories and had been denied an alcohol permit.

"Senator Schall and I went to the front for her," Jacobs said.

Names of persons declared to have contributed to Schall's campaign were brought out.

"T. E. Kelly, a banker of Minneapolis, helped some and a lot of our good friends in the country," said Jacobs. "Andy Rahn helped some."

"How much" asked Kinkead. "Oh, Lordy, I can't say how much. He gave some during the primary and one time about $2,000."

Rahn formerly was republican state committeeman.

The most pertinent testimony related to Mr. Peoria, an Italian, who was charged with keeping and selling liquor.

Jacobs said that Schall agreed to use his influence to have the charge modified to one of simple possession. In return for a campaign contribution.

As a result, Jacobs indicated, Capt. C. A. Townsend, then prohibition director, was urged by Schall to accept a plea to a lesser charge, because "Peoria was a leader among his countrymen and controlled a lot of votes."

Jacobs testified he was present at the meeting.

Opposing attorneys were in the midst of a wrangle when a recess was taken to 7:30 p. m. tonight.

The hearing was marked by several clashes, the major one being a protest by Tom Davis, of Minneapolis, and other attorneys for Schall that the proceedings were illegal.

The committee overruled the objections.

Today is a real big event on our calendar—St. Patrick's Day. 'Rah for the Irish!

Yesterday we saw four baby carriages grouped on one side of the street. Who says our population is decreasing.

There is always a reason for a leader. In this case it is "Mulehide's" proven ability to impart more than ordinary quality to roofs.

Heard in Garvey's Cafe: "What kind o' pie y' got?" "Apple, gooseberry, custard, raisin, coconut, pumpkin, peach, apricot, chocolate, blueberry, raspberry, blackberry, and cream." "Ain't y' got mince?"

Start the spring right by specifying "Mulehide" on your roof.

Yesterday a friend of ours told us his wife wasn't feeling very well. "Guess I'll call up and see how she is," he said and took the phone. Pretty soon he put the receiver up. "She's all right now. The line's busy."

A Brainerd business man received a payment on account yesterday, and a letter which said, "Please tell me how I stand in the rear."

If you're planning on building, investigate "Masonite" the new wall board sheathing. It's different and makes an ideal backing for studding construction and in addition is a wonderful insulation. Call for a sample.

A liar is a man who has no partition between his imagination and his information.

"How long in jail fo' Mose?" "Two weeks." "What am de charge?" "No charge, everything am free."

We do love this weather. You start out with rubbers and have to use 'em for umbrellas before you get back.

Brainerd Musical Club

Miss Helen Bannon of Chicago has been secured to take the place of Miss Margaret O'Connor, harpist, who was to have been heard in concert, Saturday afternoon at the First Congregational church under the auspices of the Brainerd Musical club.

Miss O'Connor was taken ill, making necessary the postponement of the first date set for the recital and as she is still unable to appear, the club feels fortunate in securing Miss Bannon who is accredited as being equally accomplished in the harpist's field.

Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone will play Serenade and Allegro gioioso on the piano, the orchestral parts being played on the pipe organ by Mrs. Louis Knutsen. The difficult arrangement of the pipe organ parts was done personally by Mrs. Knutsen warranting a beautiful rendition of the composition.

The concert will be given this coming Saturday, March 19, at the Congregational church and will begin at 3 p. m.

Almy denied he owned the liquor and said he would appeal to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon for a refund.

The former cowboy said he saw plenty of liquor-drinking aboard the Leviathan and that Commodore Hartley, commander of the ship, himself witnessed drinking when the ship was at quarantine Monday night.

Kansas City, Mo., March 17. — Two men who attempted to take advantage of the good nature of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McDonald, Minneapolis, are in jail here today, charged with stealing the automobile in which the McDonalds were returning from California.

The McDonalds found a couple whose automobile was stuck in the mud near the Oklahoma line a few days ago and pulled them out. The next day they found the pair who gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. William Leslie of Kansas City, in trouble near Parsons, Kansas, and again assisted them.

Yesterday, McDonald was told by Mrs. McDonald that Leslie had come to her and said McDonald gave him permission to use the car. Police were notified and Leslie and another man were arrested in Lawrence, Kansas, with the automobile.

The two were brought back here where the second man gave the name of George Brockwell, 26, of Springfield, Ill.

The McDonalds are continuing their trip homeward.

Additional decorations including balance and draperies along the full length of windows to be put in just prior to the tourist season together with the new all white Knight Frigidaire soda fountain installed this week will tend to make the Paul M. Jones' confectionery store on the northwest corner of Sixth and Laurel streets one of the nicest confectionery stores outside the Twin Cities. The Frigidaire soda fountain was installed by the Russell Ice Cream Co. of Superior, Wis., and is now ready for use.

The new fountain has a capacity of 30 gallons of ice cream, six cases of bottled goods, a special brick ice cream department. The fountain eliminates the use of ice entirely and ranks supreme in cleanliness. Two different temperature controllers automatically operated by electricity is among its features.

NEW THING IN THE WAY OF A BANK RUN

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 17. — (UP)—A run on the United States postal savings department by negro depositors continued here today despite assurances of race leaders that the government is solvent. More than 400 negroes withdrew their deposits yesterday total withdrawals amounting to $25,000. Police expected trouble from the riches but none was reported last night. Skepticism regarding Uncle Sam's ability to pay followed failure of three banks here and at Palm Beach within the last week.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS ABOUT SPANGLES

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, March 17. — (UP)—"Say it with spangles" when it comes to evening fashions and you can't go far wrong. Unless you believe yourself to be sufficiently youthful and slender to wear the taffeta robe de style with its slender bodice and full skirt you had better go in for sophisticated glittering effects. Perhaps when Summer comes along plain chiffons will again assert themselves for evening purposes but they are in the minority at present.

At the Opera this week almost every box had its representation of spangled frocks. There were many sheath models, entirely covered with glittering beadwork with crystal fringed skirts, robes made of solid sequins, ombre-shaded spangle gowns of straight lines and gowns with plain bodices and tiered bead-trimmed skirts.

Even accessories carried out the sparkling effect. Heels on silver slippers were made of brilliants and slipper borders and straps were also outlined in brilliants. Even stockings in some instances were clocked in brilliants. Evenings bags continue in small square envelope shapes of rhinestones in color harmony with the gown.

Sequin wraps are the newest ideas in the spangle mode. These have either white fox or ostrich collars and are lined in chiffon. As a rule they harmonize in color with the gown. In speaking of wraps, one of the most effective capes seen this season is made of black velvet with tiers of ermine tails extending from hip line to hem. There are literally hundreds of ermine tails used on this cape.

Getting back to evening gowns, we note that neck lines are decidedly low cut at the rear, having the deep U-shaped or triangle décolletage or the center strap which attached to a head band which extends about the back of the neck and ends in straps holding up the bodice in front. Showing as much of the spine as possible seems to be the main idea in décolletage.

Gardening—A Good Game

GARDENING is a family sport. Every member of the household can be interested in it. While affording instructive recreation it also pays you a wonderful profit in the form of fresh vegetables all summer and fall—even for winter if you will cold pack varieties, such as Corn, Beans, Beets, Carrots, etc.

A small garden is very much worth while. A space 20x25 feet will well repay you if used for beans, radishes, beets, lettuce, carrots, spinach, etc.—the quick growers. A larger area permits growing sweet corn, peas, melons, tomatoes, and the root crops for winter storage.

To utilize your land to best advantage, plan your garden right away. Also plan to use seed that bears a reputation for producing good crops over a long period of years. Northrup, King & Co.'s seeds have given satisfaction for 42 years.

OUR WATER LEVELS IN THE LAKE COUNTRY

THAT the maintenance of adequate water levels in the lake country is of vital importance to this district is evidenced by the fact that Congressman Harold Knutson has set in motion the machinery to consider matters and that the government hearing will take place early this spring, a schedule of meetings being arranged for several towns including Brainerd.

The State Game and Fish Commission is interested in the matter too, for without sufficient water, fish life is endangered. In a letter dated March 11, Major R. C. Williams, District Engineer of the Corps of Engineers, who is preparing for the meetings and who will represent the federal government, writes to J. F. Gould, Commissioner of Game and Fish, as follows:

"Replying to yours of the 7th relative to the proposed preliminary examination of the headwaters of the Mississippi River, I would like to correct what is evidently an erroneous impression on your part as to my statement of the impossibility of maintaining a fixed minimum stage in both the reservoirs and the connecting channels during extended periods of low water. The statement is correct and has nothing to do with existing laws and regulations, excepting, of course, the laws of nature.

"Assuming that in such periods the water supply would be sufficient to maintain the connecting channels at the minimum stage in their natural state, that is, without the reservoirs. As soon as the reservoirs reached the minimum stage, to hold them there it would be necessary to reduce the discharge because of evaporation over the reservoir area. This would lower the stage in the rivers below the reservoirs. There have been times when it would have been impossible to hold the reservoirs stationary even with the discharge entirely cut off.

"You refer to a projected survey by two other Federal bureaus and your department. I would like to be informed as to the nature of this survey, although I doubt very much whether our preliminary examination would benefit by working in conjunction with it."

We would also like to call the attention of Major Williams to the previous examinations made in the Brainerd district, to the data accumulated by the late Leon E. Lum who took a great interest in the subject, and to the work done by A. M. Opsahl and other Brainerd citizens. That work should provide illuminating data for the coming hearing at Brainerd this spring.

THE RIGHT TO CRITICIZE

THE critic is apparently coming into his own in this great land of the free and home of the brave. It has not been a great while since the critic was roundly condemned as "destructive", "self-seeking" or "radical" but today efforts are continually being made by publications large and small to encourage comments from their readers on matters of civic or national importance.

However, the political critic still comes in for his share of criticism. To some all adverse comment is "destructive" or just plain "fault finding." This new taunt is that those who criticize a man in office are inspired to do so by a desire to succeed him.

President Butler of Columbia university neatly maintains the thesis that a man may criticize the president of the United States without wanting to be president himself.

In other fields the rights of disinterested criticism have been fairly well established. A reviewer may find fault with a book without being charged with thinking himself capable of writing a better one. Art critics can criticize paintings without knowing how to paint. But the resentment against the fault-finder has lingered longer in the realm of political discussion.

One of the reasons the United States has a government "of the people, by the people and for the people" is because the people have always been free to criticize it, to find and remedy its faults and to tell those in public office when their services are unsatisfactory.—Exchange.

WE note with misgiving and regret the fact that some people have no more regard for a public highway than to shatter glass where it may be picked up by expensive tires. A point in case is at the four mile corner on No. 19 west of Brainerd. Broken glass was also strewn lately near the intersection of Seventh and Laurel streets, also considerable on sidewalks on South Seventh street below Oak. This glass breaking cannot be 100 per cent accident.

THE "Income Tax in a Nutshell" proved to be a series of some sixteen articles, half a column in length, indicating quite a large nutshell for such a subject. The poor man has one advantage over the millionaire and that is, he escapes endless worry making out the tax statement.

TUESDAY brought many people from Pequot, Walker, Pine River to town to do their trading. A delegation of business men from Hackensack attended a directors meeting of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce. They seek to be linked up with Brainerd in lake advertising.

DECISION as to whether the Jefferson Highway association will continue to function or not will be made on March 24 when members and officers of the association gather at St. Paul for their annual meeting.

THE era of letter writing has fallen into disuse and has been succeeded by the telephone call. You may talk to your Sweetie by phone and leave no tell-tale record as existed in the days of pen and ink.

THE recommendations of our crime commission seem to be popular with everybody except the legislators.

THE joyful click of the filling station pump is being heard on all sides in Brainerd.

WISE school boards are already casting around for high school commencement speakers.

THE parole board is criticized at times for taking chances on its "releases."

WELL, who played the first game of golf and tennis this season?

"MATINEE LADIES," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Ward, college student, gets work as a dancing partner for rich women in a New Jersey roadhouse. At the inn he meets the prettiest, sweetest girl he has ever laid eyes on—Sally, the cigarette girl. Reciprocating his interest, she warns him against the mysterious and beautiful Mrs. Hammond, habitue of the inn, who finds her "thrill" in "hunting" Bob for her lovelorn apartment. Bob, taking Sally home, finds Mrs. Smith hostile; and learns he has a rival.

CHAPTER X.—Continued.

Thus delivering herself of the news that the favored Tom Mannion was going to call on Sally, Mrs. Smith, with a brief nod toward Bob, turned and disappeared into the house.

Bob felt sorry for Sally—sorry for the flames in her cheeks. He tried to quench the latter with a genial, dissembling smile; but Sally was too deeply hurt, too close to the point of tears, to be readily consoled.

She insisted upon explaining away her mother's hostility; "Mother's very strict, Bob. She really doesn't mean anything by seeming so cross, but she's so afraid I'll meet someone at the inn who isn't good for me!"

Which was nothing like what Mrs. Smith—who even now was concealed behind the curtain of the inner vestibule door, peering and eavesdropping—really felt. Mrs. Smith's true concern was to get for Sally a man with money. As a mother, she was neither original, or even rare in this desire. But, perhaps, her efforts were a little cruder than the average.

Mrs. Smith had allowed Sally to take the job—encouraged and aided her, in fact!—at the Palisado because she felt that the opportunities there for the girl to meet a man with a great deal of money were good. But Sally had disappointed her!

Hon. Thomas Mannion, Esquire, was balm to Mrs. Smith, though. "There was a man for you! A member of the neighborhood church to which Sally went, a member in excellent standing and influence of Tammany Hall, and an attorney of growing note. Still in his early thirties, and an important figure among the elect of the city's court and council chambers.

And madly in love with Sally Smith, whom he had met at a church social, and had rushed over since. To Mrs. Smith's great delight—if not to Sally's.

All of which was why Mrs. Smith had had seven kinds of conviction fits when Sally came walking home with a young man whose penny slices from each well-worn elbow, from every hint of his overpressed and overold garmenture. That was why Mrs. Smith was sniffling behind the inner door now—the while she silenced the Smith boys with the wangle of a long, bony forefinger that was not to be lightly disobeyed; and the while her incandescent mind was making up a sarcastic barrage with which to ridicule and beat down Sally's interest in this poor looking fellow (if she had an interest in him) as soon as she had left him and entered the house.

Meanwhile, Bob and Sally were giggling through the third and longest of the awkward silences that had oppressed them since they reached the home steps.

Then Bob asked, hesitantly, diffidently—yet most anxiously:

"Sally, who is this Mr. Mannion, may I ask?"

Sally, who knew her mother's tricks of old, lowered her voice to a whisper and exhaled reluctantly: "Oh, just a man—a lawyer and politician—lives in the second Street—calls on me all the time around a game of golf. Mother likes him."

Bob's dreams were

OUR WATER LEVELS IN THE LAKE COUNTRY

THAT the maintenance of adequate water levels in the lake country is of vital importance to this district is evidenced by the fact that Congressman Harold Knutson has set in motion the machinery to consider matters and that the government hearing will take place early this spring, a schedule of meetings being arranged for several towns including Brainerd.

The State Game and Fish Commission is interested in the matter too, for without sufficient water, fish life is endangered. In a letter dated March 11, Major R. C. Williams, District Engineer of the Corps of Engineers, who is preparing for the meetings and who will represent the federal government, writes to J. F. Gould, Commissioner of Game and Fish, as follows:

"Replying to yours of the 7th relative to the proposed preliminary examination of the headwaters of the Mississippi River, I would like to correct what is evidently an erroneous impression on your part as to my statement of the impossibility of maintaining a fixed minimum stage in both the reservoirs and the connecting channels during extended periods of low water. The statement is correct and has nothing to do with existing laws and regulations, excepting, of course, the laws of nature.

"Assuming that in such periods the water supply would be sufficient to maintain the connecting channels at the minimum stage in their natural state, that is, without the reservoirs. As soon as the reservoirs reached the minimum stage, to hold them there it would be necessary to reduce the discharge because of evaporation over the reservoir area. This would lower the stage in the rivers below the reservoirs. There have been times when it would have been impossible to hold the reservoirs stationary even with the discharge entirely cut off.

"You refer to a projected survey by two other Federal bureaus and your department. I would like to be informed as to the nature of this survey, although I doubt very much whether our preliminary examination would benefit by working in conjunction with it."

We would also like to call the attention of Major Williams to the previous examinations made in the Brainerd district, to the data accumulated by the late Leon E. Lum who took a great interest in the subject, and to the work done by A. M. Opsahl and other Brainerd citizens. That work should provide illuminating data for the coming hearing at Brainerd this spring.

COUNTRY CLUB PLANS FEATURE FOR SCHOOL SEASON

TEACHERS DESIROUS OF TAKING ADVANTAGE OF OFFER RE-

ALL ENTRIES EXPECTED BY APRIL 1: NOMINAL FEE
WILL BE CHARGED

A plan whereby school teachers may avail themselves of the playing rights at the Brainerd Country club during the early summer season at a nominal fee is to be inaugurated this year by the club provided sufficient membership from this source warrants.

Teachers wishing to take advantage of the offer are requested to enter their names to Edward J. Egan, secretary, before April 1. The race will be set at that time. The more entries received the smaller the fee. It is hoped that sufficient entries can be received to set the rate at $5 for the school season.

The Brainerd Country club this season looks for the biggest season in its history. In addition to an increase in number of local members, the golf course will attract many tourists. The new pavement will aid materially in bringing this about.

HORNSBY POSSIBLE SUCCESSOR TO MCGRAW

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, March 17.—After watching the way in which Rogers Hornsby took hold of his new job with the New York Giants and the enthusiasm with which he carried out his job as captain, there are many who think that John McGraw wants him to manage the club when he retires.

It is one of the surest indications of spring to hear that McGraw is starting his last season with the Giants but it's bound to come because some season must be his last and there are reasons to believe that he is getting ready to get out of active participation in field duties of the club.

McGraw is starting his twenty-fifth season as manager of the Giants and there were indications last year that he was tiring of the strain of handling a pennant contender or that he was cracking under the strain.

From sources close to the club it was known that McGraw had Frank Frisch in mind as a possible successor but when Frisch missed a couple of signals last year and blew some games, McGraw is said to have marked him off as a possibility. He not only removed him from the list of candidates but he traded him away to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hornsby is said to be drawing a salary of $40,000 and while that certainly is not a sum to be sneezed at he signed with such alacrity that there were reasons to believe that he had been given other inducements to come to terms with his new employers.

Before McGraw reported to the Sarasota training camp, Hornsby assumed his duties as captain with so much authority that he actually was in charge of the camp and the other players played right along with him.

Some of the critics have said that the St. Louis Cardinals made Hornsby successful as a manager and that he had very little to do with the management of the club but the results do not bear out this contention.

It was drive more than superior class that kept the team in the top of a hot pennant fight and it was spirit that kept the players together and Hornsby put the spirit in them and kept them going.

If McGraw should win the pennant this year and Hornsby lives up to expectations, it would be no surprise if the Giant manager retires.

He has a great ambition to celebrate his silver jubilee with a pennant and after that there would be very little left for him in the way of glory. He always has taken pride in building pennant winners and most of his success has been achieved by his skill in tearing down clubs and rebuilding them.

The strain of the 1926 pennant race told on him severely. He rode the team unmercifully and worked himself into such a nervous condition that he couldn't sleep. During a life series in St. Louis the Giants played some very bad ball and when mistakes in judgment lost several games he became so aroused that he walked the streets all one night.

Twenty-five years is a long time to spend in the management of a club especially under the system followed by McGraw. He had to play every game just as much as if he were on the field and the strain was greater because he had to take the punishment when he sat on the bench and saw the players doing things he thought they should not be doing.

For years he has been directing every play and ordering nearly every ball pitched and that is some job.

He has a good ball club this year and if he allows Hornsby to share some of the responsibility of managements, the strain will not be nearly so severe on him.

HOLDOUT CAMPAIGN FOR HIGHER WAGES BLOWS IN BASEBALL

AFTER THE BABE AND THE
RAJAH SIGN, THERE'S NOTH-ING MORE TO IT

THE REST OF THE BOYS SIGN
FOR LESSER AMOUNTS, SOME GRUMBLINGLY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, March 17.—When Babe Ruth and Rogers Hornsby were talking during the winter about so much or nothing on a new contract, there were reasons to believe that less noted discontented players might enlist behind the prize show elephants of baseball in an organized holdout campaign.

As it turned out the Babe and the Rajah were not interested in any labor cause and were concerned chiefly with themselves.

Hornsby asked for the pen and ink bottle and signed for $10,000 after he had talked to his new boss, John McGraw, for less than fifteen minutes.

The ceremony of signing Babe Ruth to a new three-year contract for $210,000 consumed fifty-five minutes by actual clocking.

The holdout campaign, if it was waiting for high powered leadership then blew up and the boys began to sign up even if they did grumble about the difference between theirs and $210,000 and $40,000.

There remain, however, a few more stubborn athletes who are talking about raising silver foxes, fishing in Indiana, running pool rooms and loafing if the magnates do not come through with what they want.

The pennant chances of four leading contenders depend in no minor part upon four players who couldn't agree with the valuation placed on their services by their employers.

Eddie Roush—no holdout list would be complete without him—has not reported to the New York Giants and hasn't even talked to his new bosses but he will not fish all summer as he has threatened.

Charley Stoneham, president of the Giants, looks upon the Roush case with humor.

"He's old like I am and he doesn't like to work any more than I do," Stoneham said.

But McGraw doesn't see any humor in the situation. He has an outfield problem to solve since he lost Pep Young and he can't reach the solution until he has Roush in centerfield.

Herb Pennock, admitted to be the greatest southpaw in baseball, has the Yankees worried. He wants $20,000 a year and he will not report until he gets it. The Yankees have to have Pennock and he knows it.

Tommy Thevenow, one of the outstanding stars of the world series, tossed back the contract the Cardinals offered him. He knows that the club can't pick anyone to fill his shoes from the dozen or more farms the club owns.

Hughie Critz, the best fielding second baseman in baseball, wasn't satisfied with the terms offered him by the Cincinnati Reds. He refused to be moved by the threat that George Kelly can play second base. He knows that Kelly can't play the bag like he can.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 17.—Herb Pennock, holdout pitcher of the New York Yankees, will have to spend the summer raising his taxes if he does not accept the terms offered by the club, Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the team, said today.

"We will not raise our offer one nickel," Ruppert said. Pennock was understood to be demanding $20,000 a year and the club has offered him an $18,000 contract. Ruppert said the Yankee payroll is now more than $200,000 a year.

Winona, Minn., March 17.—(UP)—After bagging 18 full grown lions in the Lake Tanganyika region of Africa, three Winona world travelers today were on the Indian ocean enroute to Saigon, French Indo China, friends here were informed by cable.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. King and Dr. E. M. McLaughlin comprise the party which left Winona Oct. 16, 1926, on a world cruise. Dr. McLaughlin and the Kings plan to stop off at Bombay where they will fit out a tiger hunt expedition in the Indo-China region.

Winona's big game hunters cabled friends here that the bag of African lions included several highly prized black maned species which were shot from shelters of brush called "boma."

Java and Singapore were to be visited by the party before the tiger hunt from the tops of elephants.

Manila and Honolulu will be two of the last stops of the party on its return home about May 15.

Winona's big game hunters cabled friends here that the bag of African lions included several highly prized black maned specie which were shot from shelters of brush called "boma."

Java and Singapore were to be visited by the party before the tiger hunt from the tops of elephants.

Manila and Honolulu will be two of the last stops of the party on its return home about May 15.

Tobacco Grown in North

Although tobacco is commonly thought of as a plant grown in the South, considerable is grown in the northern states. Especially is this true of Connecticut, where in the Glastonbury district are many fields of it, but other states in that vicinity produce material for many "smokes."

Taste has changed . . .

It took Chesterfield to prove that what smokers want is not "over-sweetening" but NATURAL TOBACCO TASTE

All that is best in the tobaccos themselves; all the natural character and goodness brought to full perfection by sheer blending skill. That's natural tobacco taste and there's nothing else so good!

COAL OPERATORS AND MINERS
MEET AT KANSAS CITY, MO.

Kansas City, Mo., March 17.—Whether the coal industry in the southwest is to be unsteady by another walkout of workers on April 1 depends upon the outcome of a conference between coal operators and miners which opened here today.

On one side is a host of coal mine operators composing the Southwestern Coal Operators' Association, seeking a lower wage scale agreement for coal mining in the state of Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas. On the other side is the figure of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Lewis arrived here yesterday for today's conference, but denied comment on the parley and refused to predict the outcome. It is understood he will insist on a renewal of the Jacksonville wage agreement in the three states.

CASKS CARRYING 125 GAL. ALCOHOL FOUND ON RAILWAY

Faribault, Minn., March 17.—(U.P.)—Casks containing 125 gallons of alcohol were found near here today along the Rock Island railroad right-of-way.

Alcohol bandits had apparently thrown the liquid from a pilfered box car which was either missed by confederates or was found by authorities before it could be picked up by the robbers.

Railroad detectives began a hunt for the car-bandits at once.

In the Smuggling Business

Finding herself with a neat little surplus from her weekly allowance for household expenses, a fond grandmother bought for each of her little-granddaughters a pair of white canvas shoes.

"Where did you get the money to buy our shoes?" asked one of them.

"Oh, I just smuggled it," was the answer.

On the first occasion that the children had to wear the shoes, they found that they had no white stockings to match them. They said: "Grandma, won't you smuggle some more money and buy us some socks?"

Poachers Spoil Fox Hunts

Society Hunts in the famous Melton Mowbray district of Ireland, known for generations as one of the world's greatest hunting centers, is being spoiled by poachers, and as a result many fashionable functions are being called off. The favorite game is foxes and these are being killed, evidently by the unemployed, for the skins. Although many strong, healthy cub have been reared, the Cottismore Hounds, an exclusive hunting club, recently spent a fruitless day in trying to find the hair of even a single fox.

Diplomacy

Herself—John, I've noticed that you've only smoked one of those cigars I gave you at Christmas. Didn't you like them?

Himself—They were fine, my dear, but when the New Year came in I made up my mind that you were right about my smoking too much and I've decided to taper off a bit.

Herself—I think that's perfectly lovely in you, and if you don't mind I'll give the cigars to father.—Portland Evening Express.

Stomach Trouble Gone, Bakes 40 Pies

"I was a nervous wreck with stomach trouble. Had dizzy spells and could scarcely walk. I began taking Adlerika, and now I run a restaurant and bake 40 pies a day. When my friends ask how I do it, I tell them about Adlerika."—Mrs. L. Amrol.

Adlerika differs from most medicines because it acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel. It gives the system a REAL cleansing, and clears out old poisons which usually cause sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. Just ONE spoonful stops GAS, and relieves that full, bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adlerika brings out much additional poison which you never guessed was in your system and which may have long caused trouble. No matter what you have tried for stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. Johnson's Pharmacy, Economy Drug Co. and other druggists. —Advt.

GANGLAND'S GUNS BARK AGAIN IN WILLIAMSON COUNTY

Marion, Ill., March 17.—(UP)—Gangland's guns in Williamson county spoke out again and Arlie O. Boswell, 30, state's attorney of the "war" torn county is in a hospital at West Frankfort today with a bullet wound in his side. He is expected to recover.

The youthful prosecutor was fired upon as he put his car in the garage at his home last night. Four shots were fired, one taking effect.

At the last term of court Boswell sent three members of the Charlie Birger gang to the penitentiary on sentences ranging from 10 years to life.

SAYS INMATES OF KILBY PRISON ARE SATISFIED

Montgomery, Ala., March 17.—(UP)—The majority of inmates at Kilby prison here are well satisfied with the facilities and service, according to the report of the state board of administration to Gov. Bibb Graves.

The report was requested following a riot of prisoners Sunday in which 16 were injured and four wounded. The demonstration, a protest against certain restricted privileges, was not justified, the governor was told.

Conditions at the prison were found by investigators to be "good and humane" and methods of guards in quelling the riot justified.

SPEND REST OF HIS LIFE IN THE PENITENTIARY

Chicago, March 17.—(UP)—The remaining years of the life of Harold J. Croarkin, 26-year-old son of a prominent family, must be spent in the state penitentiary.

Croarkin last night was convicted of killing six-year-old Walter Schmith, Jr., and given a life sentence.

The jury's verdict was a compromise that met with the approval of defense attorneys who had fought against Croarkin's being sent to the gallows. Defense attorneys had maintained Croarkin was insane, had been known since childhood as "the goof" and therefore should be sent to an insane asylum rather than the gallows.

It took only a few ballots to find Croarkin guilty. The jury received the case shortly after 5 P. M. on Wednesday and within three hours Croarkin—mild mannered and listless—listened to the intoning of the life imprisonment verdict.

"Gosh," he half muttered when the case had ended.

Farmer Resler Speaks From Experience

Well known Minnesota man now fully recovered. Tells friends that Tanlac put him on his feet
when all else failed

Anton J. Resler, R. F. D. 5, Owatonna, is widely known among Minnesota farmers. Many of these good friends were worried about his poor health and amazed at his quick and complete recovery. "For a year I suffered untold agony," he tells them. "The very odor of food sickened me and what little I could eat lay like a stone in my stomach. Every morning I would rise with that awful pain inside me, and I had neither heart nor strength for the day's work. The smallest job was a dreary drudge to me then. I grew thin, weak and sorrowful, and returned to the house exhausted each evening. I grew discouraged and knew I couldn't stand it much longer."

"Seeing what it had done for other sick folks, I gave Tanlac a trial and can truthfully say it gave me relief from the first. The awful weight and pains in my stomach soon disappeared and my appetite came back. I was able to sleep naturally again for the first time in a year. Now I'm strong and well and go through the hardest day's work with ease. Nothing bothers me now. Tanlac will always have a warm place in my heart."

What Tanlac did for Mr. Resler, it has done for many thousands of others. Over a hundred thousand grateful friends have written to tell us so. If you're in poor health, try Tanlac. Your druggist has it. Over 52 million bottles sold.

Washington, March 17.—(UP)—Refusal of Sergeant-at-Arms David S. Barry of the senate to accept a per-

McNary said that if Barry refuses, as indicated, the committee can send

FORTUNES ARE TO BE TOLD

One of Many Attractions to be Found at Whittier Jamboree Saturday Evening

FULL OF MYSTERY

Playlet and Dramatic Readings, Vikings Orchestra to Play

One of the many attractions to be found at the Whittier Jamboree Saturday evening will be a fortune teller's booth. The fortune teller, gorgeously arrayed, will tell the past and the future. She will tell each of her listeners about himself as others see him and give him a vivid word picture of his disposition. She will surprise all with the information she divulges.

Another intriguing feature will be the house of mystery. It will mystify, it will surprise, it will thrill. Its location will be known by the shouts emanating from it.

For those who enjoy a different line of entertainment a very fine program has been prepared. A playlet and dramatic readings will be given and the famous Vikings orchestra will give a generous number of selections. This orchestra composed of George Erickson, clarinet; Harry Benson, banjo; Ben Erickson, drums; Arthur Larson, accordion; and Louis Johnson, piano, is very popular and deservedly so. A most enjoyable evening is in store for those who attend this splendid program.

Finishing at the refreshment booths the pleasure seekers will acclaim with one accord that they have experienced a perfect ending for a day.

TREASURY SURPLUS EXCEEDS HALF BILLION, REPORT

Washington, March 17.—(UP)—The treasury surplus for the current fiscal year will exceed $500,000,000, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today.

This was the first official statement that the surplus would be more than $383,000,000—the figure forecast by President Coolidge several months ago.

Mellon refused to say the huge surplus would mean a tax cut next year, but admitted it was a favorable factor in considering any possible tax reduction.

ROAD CONDITIONS PLAY HAVOC WITH BUS SCHEDULES

On account of uncertain highway conditions and bad roads Northland Transportation Co. busses on some lines have been discontinued and will not run for several days or perhaps weeks all depending on weather and road conditions.

According to C. E. Wickman, president, it is the policy of the Northland Co. to run a continuous regular schedule, yet road conditions in the spring over which it has no control, very often necessitates temporary suspension of buses. The plans for this year call for the best possible bus service, meaning excellent material, good schedules, and comfortable riding conditions. Latest information on the schedule can be had by calling the bus depot.

Some time ago by mutual agreement between the two clubs an attendance contest was staged. Something like three points in the percentage column in favor of the locals entitled them to the reward which they received last evening.

Today the Lions are leading their fraternal members from Little Falls, the wonderful feed, the entertainment and the all around good hospitality shown them on their trip.

The evening opened with a banquet in the Buckman hotel, followed by an entertainment there. Later the locals were further entertained at the Elks home where they bowled, played billiards, and enjoyed friendly games of cards.

FORTUNES ARE TO BE TOLD

One of Many Attractions to be Found at Whittier Jamboree Saturday Evening

FULL OF MYSTERY

Playlet and Dramatic Readings, Vikings Orchestra to Play

One of the many attractions to be found at the Whittier Jamboree Saturday evening will be a fortune teller's booth. The fortune teller, gorgeously arrayed, will tell the past and the future. She will tell each of her listeners about himself as others see him and give him a vivid picture of his disposition. She will surprise all with the infatuation she divulges.

Another intriguing feature will be the house of mystery. It will mystify, it will surprise, it will thrill. Its location will be known by the shouts emanating from it.

For those who enjoy a different line of entertainment a very fine program has been prepared. A playlet and dramatic readings will be given and the famous Vikings orchestra will give a generous number of selections. This orchestra composed of George Erickson, clarinet; Harry Benson, banjo; Ben Erickson, drums; Arthur Larson, accordion; and Louis Johnson, piano, is very popular and deservedly so. A most enjoyable evening is in store for those who attend this splendid program.

Finishing at the refreshment booths the pleasure seekers will acclaim with one accord that they have experienced a perfect ending for a day.

TREASURY SURPLUS EXCEEDS HALF BILLION, REPORT

Washington, March 17.—(UP)—The treasury surplus for the current fiscal year will exceed $500,000,000, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today.

This was the first official statement that the surplus would be more than $383,000,000—the figure forecast by President Coolidge several months ago.

Mellon refused to say the huge surplus would mean a tax cut next year, but admitted it was a favorable factor in considering any possible tax reduction.

ROAD CONDITIONS PLAY HAVOC WITH BUS SCHEDULES

On account of uncertain highway conditions and bad roads Northland Transportation Co. busses on some lines have been discontinued and will not run for several days or perhaps weeks all depending on weather and road conditions.

According to C. E. Wickman, president, it is the policy of the Northland Co. to run a continuous regular schedule, yet road conditions in the spring over which it has no control, very often necessitates temporary suspension of busses. The plans for this year call for the best possible bus service, meaning excellent material, good schedules, and comfortable riding conditions. Latest information on the schedule can be had by calling the bus depot.

SINCLAIR FACES JAIL TERM FOR CONTEMPT

REFUSED TO ANSWER QUESTIONS
OF SENATE OIL COM-
MITTEE

JURY IN DISTRICT SUPREME COURT FINDS HIM
GUILTY

By WILLIAM J. McEVROY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, March 17.—Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate and sportsman, faces a jail term for refusing to answer questions by the senate oil committee three years ago.

A jury in district supreme court last night found Sinclair guilty of contempt of the senate, giving the government its first victory in criminal prosecution growing out of the senate investigation.

A jail sentence is mandatory for the offense, the law providing for a fine of from $100 to $1,000 and from one to 12 months in a "common jail." Immediately after the jury reported its decision, George P. Hoover secured an extension of Sinclair's bond. While refusing to comment on the verdict, Sinclair's attorneys said every legal means would be employed to prevent the oil man from going to jail. They may appeal to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia and carry the case from there to the U. S. supreme court.

Dogs That Don't Bark

The Siberian sledge dogs, which are reported to be very efficient in spite of the fact that many of them are on the verge of starvation from time to time, do not bark as do domesticated dogs. They have a manner of howling something akin to the wolf. In the summer time they subsist on frozen fish, but in winter they are hard put to it to get enough to eat.—Nature Magazine.

New York, March 17.—(UP)—Business in the Panama Canal is now so great that within the next two or three years the United States may have to take steps to build the proposed canal through Nicaragua. Dwight F. Davis, secretary of war, said today just before sailing on the Porto Rico liner Coamo for the Caribbean.

He said the principal reason for his trip was to inspect the Panama Canal. He will also inspect United States possessions and prefectures in the Caribbean.

"Ben Hur" an Exquisite Filming of Wallace Epic

It is doubtful if a finer picture on the grand scale that "Ben Hur" is ever has been made—it is fairly certain that the almost boundless facilities of camera and screen can never more faithfully and beautifully translate General Lew Wallace's monumental work to the eye than they have translated it in the vast yet exquisite moving picture "Ben Hur," which will be presented at the Park theatre, on Thursday, March 24, for one night only.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation; then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases, which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of stomach sufferers with excellent results.

SINCLAIR FACES JAIL TERM FOR CONTEMPT

OF SENATE OIL COM-
MITTEE

JURY IN DISTRICT SUPREME COURT FINDS HIM
GUILTY

By WILLIAM J. McEVVOY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, March 17.—Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate and sportsman, faces a jail term for refusing to answer questions by the senate oil committee three years ago.

A jury in district supreme court last night found Sinclair guilty of contempt of the senate, giving the government its first victory in criminal prosecution growing out of the senate investigation.

A jail sentence is mandatory for the offense, the law providing for a fine of from $100 to $1,000 and from one to 12 months in a "common jail." Immediately after the jury reported its decision, George P. Hoover secured an extension of Sinclair's bond. While refusing to comment on the verdict, Sinclair's attorneys said every legal means would be employed to prevent the oil man from going to jail. They may appeal to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia and carry the case from there to the U. S. supreme court.

Dogs That Don't Bark

The Siberian sledge dogs, which are reported to be very efficient in spite of the fact that many of them are on the verge of starvation from time to time, do not bark as do domesticated dogs. They have a manner of howling something akin to the wolf. In the summer time they subsist on frozen fish, but in winter they are hard put to it to get enough to eat.—Nature Magazine.

As a drama, a melodrama, the screen version of "Ben Hur" is a tremendous affair, infinitely more tremendous than any stage presentation could ever be. In this production the absence of the spoken word is more than atoned for by the utilization of great spaces, of huge throngs, of mighty spectacles and of lighting effects.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package. —Advt.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. —Advt.
